NICOMGT™ OFFICE GUIDE

From application to keys

Every step from the day a home is reserved to the day the keys are handed over: what Nicholson Living™, NicoMGT™ and NicoNet™ now do by themselves, what the office does, and what to do when something stalls. This guide replaces "From reservation to move-in".

Who this is for	Everyone in NicoMGT working on lettings: Paul, Kevin, Callum and the office team.
Where you work	NicoMGT › People › Applicants, and NicoMGT › People › Contracts & signing.
What has changed	Applicants now give us everyone on the contract and their photo ID in the app. ID is read automatically and right to rent share codes are asked for. The tenancy agreement is drafted from the applicant record and signed in the apps by every tenant and guarantor, with Paul countersigning. Adobe Sign is no longer needed.
Golden rule	Nothing goes to an applicant that the office has not checked: you check the draft agreement before it is sent, and you confirm the move-in time yourself.

1. The journey at a glance

The applicant sees the same six steps in Nicholson Living. Steps move forwards only; nothing moves an applicant backwards by itself.

Step	Applicant sees	What moves it on	Who
1 Referencing forms	Awaiting you to complete your referencing forms	OpenRent "Preliminary Report" email	Tracker (automatic)
2 Referees	Awaiting your referees to complete	OpenRent "Referencing Complete" with everyone passed sets Referencing passed	Tracker (automatic)
3 Contract sent	Your tenancy agreement is ready to sign	The office presses Send tenancy agreement to sign	Office, then automatic
4 Contract signed	Contract signed by all parties	Every tenant and guarantor has signed in the app and Paul has countersigned	Automatic
5 Move-in conditions	N conditions outstanding	Balance paid, deposit or Reposit in place, standing order confirmed	Office ticks in Applicants
6 Move-in confirmed	Move-in date and time shown	Office confirms the time; on the day press Moved in	Office

Alongside the steps, the applicant completes three things in the app: Everyone on the contract (details and photo ID), the Holding Deposit Explained confirmation, and, only if they offered it, the Advance Payment Notice.

Referencing that is not satisfactory (a failure, or a guarantor needed) never moves the applicant. It raises a "Referencing: decision needed" flag on their card that the applicant does not see. Decide and tell them yourself.

2. Adding the applicant

Press Add applicant in Applicants (or the tracker adds them when their row appears as let agreed on REFERENCING PROGRESS v2). Fill in:

- Full name, email, phone. The email is their Nicholson Living login. A mistyped email means they cannot get in.
- Home as advertised, rent, agreed move-in date. The offer, completion statement and tenancy agreement are built from these.
- Tenancy details (on the same form, or later with the Tenancy details button on the card): the applicant's current address, the full address of the home being let with postcode, rent day, first payment if it is not a straight pro rata, furnishing, pets, parking and permitted occupiers.
- Joint tenants and guarantors if you already know them: name, their own email, mobile, current address and relationship. If you do not, the applicant adds them in the app (section 3).

Then on the card:

- Landlord company. Check it. The standing order account and the landlord on the tenancy agreement come from it. Drafting works for Nicholson (No. 1), (No. 2) and (No. 3) Limited.
- Deposit. Reposit by default; change to "5 weeks' deposit" for the few who pay one. The agreement keeps only the matching wording.
- Set the applicant up on OpenRent (referencing) and on Reposit if used. These are outside the app.
- Tell the applicant to download Nicholson Living, sign in with the email you hold, and keep notifications on.

When they first sign in they agree, in the small print, that notices and documents may be served by email and in the app. That consent is recorded with the date and version.

3. Everyone on the contract, ID and right to rent

The applicant's progress page shows Everyone on the contract. They give, for themselves and every joint tenant and guarantor: name, mobile, email (each person their own), current address, and upload photo ID for each person. They also tell us where they heard about us (Rightmove, OnTheMarket, Zoopla, OpenRent, Google, Facebook or Instagram, word of mouth, a Nicholson resident, the building or a board, other).

ID is read automatically

- Each photo is read the moment it is uploaded: document type, issuing country, nationality, name, date of birth and expiry.
- If the photo cannot be read (glare, cropped, the back of a card) the applicant is asked to take it again. Expired ID is flagged and the applicant is asked for ID that is in date.
- Anything other than a British or Irish passport: the app asks straight away for a right to rent share code (gov.uk/prove-right-to-rent). Details cannot be saved without a share code for every tenant who needs one. Guarantors are not asked for one.
- The decision goes by what was read from the photo, not just what the applicant ticked.

What you see in NicoMGT™

Flag on the card	What it means	What you do
Right to rent: check original passport	British or Irish passport read from the photo	See the original passport in person before the tenancy starts and record the check.
Right to rent: online check · share code R…	Any other ID	Run the online check on GOV.UK with the share code and date of birth before the tenancy starts, and keep the result.
No right to rent check (guarantor)	Guarantor	Nothing for right to rent. Their ID is held with the application.
Read from photo: …	What was read from the uploaded ID	Compare the name with the application. Press View ID to see the photo.

You are alerted (bell, push and the daily digest) when an applicant submits everyone's details, with the names that need an online check.

4. Referencing and the optional advance payment

Referencing runs as before on OpenRent. The tracker reads OpenRent four times a day and moves the step on; failures and guarantor results raise a flag and alert Paul.

Rent in advance (only at the applicant's own request)

- On the card open Rent in advance, enter the amount they offered, and press Send advance payment notice.
- The notice appears in the applicant's app. They type their full name and confirm it is their own request. You are alerted when it is signed.
- The money goes to the client account only and is released to the landlord one month at a time.

5. The tenancy agreement

Draft it

- On the applicant's card press Draft tenancy agreement. NicoMGT checks it has everything: every tenant's and guarantor's current address, the full address of the home, rent, move-in date and landlord company. If anything is missing it tells you exactly what.
- The draft is made from the APT template: date, landlord company and bank account, tenants and their addresses, guarantor (or the guarantor lines and wording removed), premises, start date, rent, first payment (pro rata to the end of the month unless you set it), deposit or Reposit wording, and the Reposit addendum. "St" is written as "Street".
- Drafts are made every 15 minutes in working hours (Monday to Saturday). You get an alert when it is ready. The card then shows a one-line summary with Check the PDF and Word.

Check it, every time, before it goes out. If anything is wrong, correct the applicant record and press Draft again.

Send it to sign

- Press Send tenancy agreement to sign. The checked draft is attached and every signer is filled in from the record. Each needs their own email.
- Each tenant and guarantor gets an email and, in Nicholson Living, Documents to sign. Guarantors and joint tenants anywhere in the country sign in with their own email; the app takes them straight to the document.
- To sign they must open and read the document, tick that they have read it and agree to be bound, type their full name, draw their signature and enter a 6-digit code emailed to them at that moment.
- Reminders go after 24 hours. Paul is alerted at 48 hours if anyone has not signed. Anyone who wants to talk first can say so in the app; you are alerted.

Countersign and complete

- When everyone has signed, Paul is alerted and countersigns in Contracts & signing. Only Paul can countersign.
- The completed PDF is the agreement exactly as sent, with an execution page (each signature, name, capacity, date and time) and a signing certificate (emails, times, IP addresses, devices, code verification and the fingerprint of the original).
- It is emailed to every signer from office@ and filed. The applicant moves to Contract signed and the completion statement is sent by itself.

Staff contracts use the same signing: send from Contracts & signing; staff sign in NicoNet › Contracts to sign.

6. The money and the standing order

Holding deposit is one week's rent rounded down to the pound: rent × 12 ÷ 52. The 5-week deposit is rent × 12 ÷ 52 × 5, rounded down.

£795 rent	Reposit	5 weeks' deposit
First month's rent	£795	£795
Deposit	None (Reposit fee paid to Reposit)	£917
Less holding deposit	−£183	−£183
Balance the applicant pays	£612	£1,529

- Balance: to the Nicholson Lettings Limited client account.
- Standing order: to the landlord company that owns the home, from one month after move-in, same day each month. The applicant uploads a screenshot from their app.
- Bank details are held in the system and copied into each message and agreement; they are deliberately not printed in this guide.

7. Move-in conditions, the move-in and the keys

Condition	How you know	What you do
Balance paid	Payment in the client account	Tick Balance paid.
Deposit paid or Reposit set up	Reposit complete, or deposit received and protected	Tick it.
Standing order set up	Screenshot received (View screenshot on the card)	Check amount, date, payee account and reference; tick, or add a note asking for a new one.

- Right to rent checks done for every tenant (section 3) before the tenancy starts.
- Set the move-in date and time (standard check-in 3pm to 5pm) and press Confirm move-in time. The database will not confirm until all three conditions are ticked.
- On the day, hand over the keys at the check-in, then press Moved in. The applicant becomes a Nicholson resident and their home, documents, rent and repairs open in Nicholson Living. This also happens by itself once the tenancy starts.
