Nicholson Living is the official app for Nicholson Lettings residents. Report repairs, message the engineer booked on your repair, see your rent account, keep your tenancy documents, message us and book extra services, all in one place and open 24 hours a day. Once the app is live, it is how we talk to you and how you talk to us.

OUR APPROACH Why we built it

> We have been landlords since 2008. In that time the thing residents have asked of us most is simple: tell me where things stand.

Nicholson Group has spent nearly two decades restoring buildings and letting homes across St Helens and Liverpool. Over that time we have listened to residents in person, in surveys and in reviews. The feedback was clear. Our homes are good, but reporting a repair and hearing back took too long, and updates depended on who you happened to reach.

We have rebuilt the service around you. Every repair is logged, given a job number and timed against a target. Every message is answered professionally and saved to your account. You can see your rent, your documents and your building notices whenever you want, without waiting for office hours.

The app also gives you and us the same written record. If there is ever a question about what was reported, when, and what was done, the answer is in the app.

BEFORE	WITH NICHOLSON LIVING™
Repairs reported by email or form, with no reference	Repair logged in seconds with a job number
Chasing the office for an update	Notified when the engineer is booked and when the job is closed
No way to reach the engineer	Message the engineer on your repair; they reply by 5pm the same working day
No record of what was done	Told what was done, by whom, and asked whether you are happy
Documents scattered across emails	Tenancy agreement, inventory, deposit and safety certificates in one place
Replies depended on who answered	Every reply polite, professional and saved to your account
Office hours only	Open 24 hours, with tap-to-call emergency cover day and night

REPORT · TRACK · CONFIRM

Repairs

Report every repair through the app, however small. A report in the app is the official record, so it is the fastest way to get it fixed and the only way to make sure nothing is missed.

1. Tap Report a repair
   Choose where the problem is: kitchen, bathroom, bedroom, living room or a communal area.

2. Describe what is wrong
   Be specific. “Kitchen tap dripping constantly” gets the right engineer with the right parts first time.

3. Choose access
   Let us use management keys, or tell us you will be home. We confirm the arrangement back to you.

4. Get your job number
   The job is logged straight away with a reference, for example J1051, and appears in your repairs history.

5. We book the engineer
   You are notified when the job is booked on our maintenance calendar.

6. Message your engineer
   Once an engineer is booked, your repair shows Message [engineer's first name]. Use it for arrival times, access and anything they need from you. They reply by 5pm the same working day (the next working day if you message after 5pm or at the weekend).

7. Job completed and closed
   You are told what was done and which engineer did it, then asked for your feedback. If the job is not right, say so and it goes straight back on the list.

PRIORITY	TARGET	EXAMPLES
Emergency	2 days	Danger to health or safety, or serious damage to the building. Call the emergency line as well.
Reactive	14 days	Something that stops part of your home working properly, such as a faulty appliance or a leaking tap.

PRIORITY	TARGET	EXAMPLES
Inconvenience	28 days	Minor defects that do not affect how you use your home, such as a sticking drawer or loose trim.

DAY AND NIGHT

Smell gas? Fire? Call these first.

Leave the property if it is unsafe. Then report it to us.

NICHOLSON EMERGENCY ENGINEER
Tap Emergency in the app

Use the emergency engineer for

- Flooding or a major leak
- No heating or hot water
- A break-in or an insecure door or window
- Being locked out

How it works

The Emergency tile connects you straight to our engineer, who is on call 24 hours a day. The number is not shown; just tap to call.

Locked out

£100 call-out

We will let you back in. The call-out is paid through a secure payment link.

ALWAYS CURRENT

Rent account

Your rent account shows every payment due, its amount and whether it has been received. It is updated as payments arrive.

Pay now

Shows the landlord company's bank details for your tenancy and your payment reference, with copy buttons. Always use your reference so we can match the payment.

I've paid

Paid by bank transfer? Tell us the date, amount and the name on the paying account. We check it, usually by the next working day, and notify you once it has cleared.

Need a day or two?

On the rent in your Rent schedule, tap Ask for time to pay and choose the day you will pay by, up to 7 days after it is due. If we agree, it is a one-off for that month: the rent still shows as owed until it reaches us, your usual rent date is unchanged, and we will not chase you before the agreed date.

Payment plan

Fallen behind? Request a plan in the app. We reply in Messages within 2 working days. Your normal rent stays due on time, and the full balance stays due until a plan is agreed.

Build your credit score

Sign up to Brickk from the app and your on-time rent payments can help improve your credit file.

If your account is in arrears or a damage invoice is unpaid, the app shows a flashing alert and sends a notification. Extras, handyman bookings, referrals, moves and requests are paused until the balance is cleared. Repairs, emergencies, your rent account, messages, documents and the notice board always stay open.

ONE PLACE

Documents and certificates

Your tenancy

- Signed tenancy agreement
- Holding deposit confirmation
- Inventory
- DPS deposit certificate (where you paid a cash deposit)

Certificates tab

- Gas safety certificate
- Electrical installation report
- Energy Performance Certificate (EPC)

What you upload

Photo ID, and right to rent documents where they apply. Upload them once and they are held securely on your account.

ON RECORD

Messages, notices and updates

Messages

Ask us anything. Every message and reply is saved on your account, so nothing gets lost and you never have to explain twice.

Message your engineer

On an open repair with an engineer booked, tap Message [first name]. You see the engineer's first name and they see yours; phone numbers are never exchanged. Nicholson Lettings can read every message and will step in if a reply is late. The conversation closes when the repair is completed and stays on your record.

Notice board

Building notices, such as weekly fire alarm tests, planned works and communal cleaning.

Inspections

We inspect each building on a rolling programme and give you at least 24 hours' written notice in the app before any visit. Your next visit shows as a card on your Home screen. Tap it, or open the menu and choose Inspections, to see every date booked and tell us for each one: I'll be home, Use your keys or Rearrange.

ADMIN

Your tenancy

Giving notice

Notice is given in the app: open the My tenancy tab and tap the Ending your tenancy box, above Leave us a review, or search for “give notice”. We first ask why you are leaving, then the app explains the notice period and the date your tenancy would end before you confirm. It can be given on your contractual rent payment date once that month's rent has been received, or on the day your rent is marked received if it arrived on the rent date. You can request a landlord reference at the same time.

Your three check-out visits

The moment you give notice, we book three visits with you and confirm them in Messages, under Your check-out:

1. Pre-check-out inspection, at 10:00 on a working day about one month before your tenancy ends. We go through the inventory with you and list any cleaning, damage or missing items to put right before you leave.
2. Follow-up inspection, at 10:00 two weeks later. We check the work has been done or replacements ordered. Anything not done is charged for us to carry out.
3. Check-out and keys, at 11:00 on the last day of your tenancy: final inspection, meter readings and hand-back of every key and fob. If your last day falls on a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday, check-out is at 11:00 on the next working day, normally the Monday. Your tenancy end date does not change.

Late check-out can be booked as an extra.

Where to find your check-out dates

My tenancy › Ending your tenancy shows your end date and all three visits, with times. They are also listed under Inspections, and the next one appears on your Home screen as Check-out visit 1 of 3, then 2 of 3 and 3 of 3. Tell us on each visit whether you'll be home, want us to use our keys, or need to rearrange. If your end date changes, the visits move automatically; if a notice is withdrawn with our agreement, they are cancelled. You are told in the app either way. Our two check-out guides, Your End of Tenancy Check Out and Important Tenant Obligations when Vacating, are saved in My documents.

After you leave

Your app account is closed 14 days after your tenancy ends. Save copies of your documents before then.

UPDATE · 7 NOVEMBER 2026

Polish with Claude

> Under every message box you will now see Polish with Claude. One tap tidies your message so it is clear and easy for us to act on.

Where it is

- Messages – a new message to us, and every conversation.
- Repairs & works › Message [engineer] – your chat with the engineer booked for your repair.

How it works

- It keeps your own words, and every fact, time and request you wrote. It is optional.
- Nothing is sent until you press Send. Tap Undo to go back to what you wrote.

Polish keeps every fact, date, time, amount and commitment exactly as written and adds nothing new. It fixes spelling and grammar and takes out rudeness, sarcasm and shouting.

REPAIRS

S1 Your repair, from report to finished

You can follow every repair in Nicholson Living, agree the appointment, message your engineer, and see exactly what was done – who came, how long they were there, what they found and did, and photos from before and after the work.

1. Report it

   Repairs › Report a repair: what, where, photos or a video, and whether we can use our keys. Watch the self-fix guide if one pops up – it may save you waiting.

2. Agree the appointment

   Suggest the days and times that suit you, or accept one we offer. The agreed time is in My appointments, with a reminder the day before.

3. Your engineer arrives

   You get a notification – for example "Robbie has arrived" – as soon as your engineer starts work.

4. The repair is finished

   You get a Repair completed notification. Tap it to open the repair.

5. Before and after

   The Before and after box shows who did the work, the time they were on site, what we found, what we did, confirmation that it was tested and working when we left, and the photos taken before and after. Tap a photo to see it full size.

6. Rate the repair

   Press Rate this repair. If it isn't fixed, say so: it goes straight back on our list and we will be in touch to put it right.

Every repair is checked

Every completed repair is also reviewed by our management team, with the engineer's photos and report.

Message your engineer

While the repair is open, Message [first name] on the repair. Engineers reply the same working day. Please keep messages polite and courteous.

PART 2 · EVERY SCREEN

Everything in Nicholson Living

Every screen in the app, what it does and how to get the most from it. The app has four tabs along the bottom: My home, Money, Services and My tenancy, with the home screen, notifications and search at the top.

The home screen

Needs your attention shows anything waiting for you: rent due, an invoice to settle, a message to read, this month's alarm test, the newsletter, a request for your view. Nothing waiting? You're all up to date.

Get the most from it

Keep notifications on: notices about your tenancy come through the app. Test your alarms each month. Send meter readings with a photo. Report repairs early, with photos. Message us early if money is tight.

EMERGENCIES

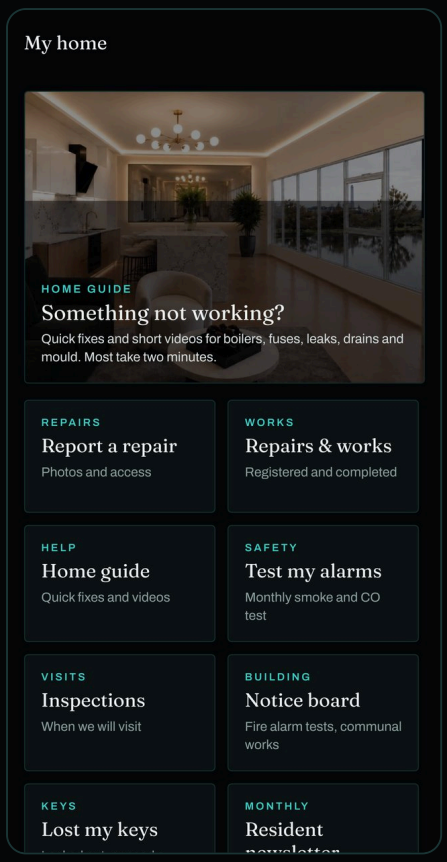

Gas smell: leave and call 0800 111 999. Fire or danger to life: 999. Flood, no power, unsafe electrics or a door that won't lock: ring us as well as reporting it as an Emergency repair.

Service with Respect

Our team is here to help you, and we are all human. Please be polite and courteous in every message and conversation, as we will be with you.

Rent Reform Guide

What the Renters' Rights Act changes mean for your tenancy. Also in the app under My tenancy.

Every resident

Ministry of Housing, Communities & Local Government

The Renters' Rights Act Information Sheet 2026

From 1 May 2026, the Renters' Rights Act 2025 will give tenants new rights and introduce new rules for private landlords. This information sheet explains how the new rules may affect your current tenancy.

These changes only affect you if you are a tenant in the private rented sector with an assured or assured shorthold tenancy. If you live in social housing or you are a lodger, the new rules will not usually apply to you.

These rules have been introduced by law. Your landlord cannot put anything into a tenancy agreement to change or disapply them.

This document is only a summary of the changes. The new rules may change or impact your tenancy in a way not described below. The new rules apply to your tenancy automatically, even if your landlord does not update your tenancy agreement.

If you do not have a written tenancy agreement or any written record of the tenancy's terms, then your landlord must provide you with certain written information on or before 31 May 2026.

If your landlord serves you a notice seeking possession before 1 May 2026

The changes explained in this document may not apply to your tenancy on 1 May 2026 if your landlord serves a notice seeking possession under section 8 or section 21 of the Housing Act 1988 before 1 May 2026.

If this happens, your landlord may still be able to take you to court to end your tenancy under the previous rules. You should seek advice if this happens to you.

Changes to fixed terms

You might have a fixed term tenancy. For example, your tenancy agreement may say the tenancy would last for 12 months.

After 1 May 2026, it will not be possible for assured tenancy agreements to have a fixed term or a set end date. All tenancies will automatically become rolling tenancies from 1 May 2026 (sometimes known as 'periodic tenancies').

Your tenancy will continue on a rolling basis. This will usually be monthly, unless your tenancy agreement sets out a shorter period, for example weekly or fortnightly. If your tenancy had an end date, it will no longer apply.

Your tenancy will continue until:

- you and your landlord decide together to end the tenancy
- you end your tenancy by giving notice
- your landlord ends it, if they have a valid legal reason

Change to the name of Assured Shorthold Tenancies

Your tenancy agreement might call your tenancy an 'Assured Shorthold Tenancy'. This is the name of the private rented tenancy system until 1 May 2026.

Assured Shorthold Tenancies will be abolished on 1 May 2026. Any tenancy previously called an Assured Shorthold Tenancy will automatically become an Assured Periodic Tenancy instead. Your tenancy will not end because of this change.

Increasing the rent

Your tenancy agreement may contain rent review clauses. These are terms in the agreement that allow the landlord to increase the rent.

Rent review clauses cannot be used for new rent increases after 1 May 2026. If you have a rent review clause in your current tenancy agreement, it will not apply after this date.

Landlords must instead use the process in section 13 of the Housing Act 1988 for increasing the rent. This means they can only increase the rent once per year. They will need to give you written notice of the proposed rent increase at least 2 months before that increase would take effect, using a form called Form 4A.

Any rent increase must be no higher than the open market rent. If you think the proposed increase is above market rate, you can challenge it at the First-tier Tribunal.

If your landlord wants to end your tenancy

Your tenancy agreement may say that your landlord can evict you without a reason. This was known as a section 21 eviction. Your landlord cannot give you a section 21 notice on or after 1 May 2026, even if your tenancy agreement says they can.

Instead, your landlord will need a legal reason to evict you. These reasons are called grounds for possession.

Below is a brief summary of some of the main reasons your landlord may legally seek to evict you. You can find full details of these and other grounds on GOV.UK.

- If you have not paid your rent on time
- If you, others living with you, or visitors commit antisocial behaviour in or near the property
- If you, or others living with you, do not care for the property properly
- If your tenancy was for certain purposes, for example it was connected to your employment, or was for temporary or supported accommodation

You cannot be required to leave under some grounds for the first 12 months of a tenancy. These are:

- if your landlord intends to sell the property
- if your landlord or their family member wants to move into the property

Your landlord will need to give you a section 8 notice of seeking possession, using 1 or more of the grounds for possession.

A section 8 notice must state the date by which your landlord is asking you to leave. They must give you the required amount of time under each ground.

If you have not left by the end of the notice period, your landlord will need to apply to court to get the property back. This is called applying for a possession order.

At court, the landlord must provide evidence that they have a valid reason to evict you. You will have the opportunity to explain why you think your landlord does not have a legal reason to evict you, or why eviction is not reasonable under certain grounds.

You can access free legal advice through the Housing Loss Prevention Advice Service[1] before going to court and on the day of the court hearing.

If you want to end the tenancy

You will be able to end the tenancy at any point by giving your landlord notice. This must be done:

- so the tenancy ends on a day when the rent is due or the day before the rent is due
- in writing, for example, by letter or email

You will need to give your landlord at least 2 months' notice. You can agree a shorter notice period with the landlord in writing, as long as any other tenants named on the tenancy agreement also agree.

Keeping a pet

From 1 May 2026, you have the right to request to keep a pet.

Your landlord cannot unreasonably refuse your request. If they refuse, they must inform you in writing, and should tell you the reason why. They will need to consider each request on a case-by-case basis. You can challenge the landlord's decision in court.

If you are a student who rents from a private landlord

If you are a full-time student, your landlord may be able to evict you using possession ground 4A. They will be able to do this at the end of the academic year and must give you 4 months' notice ending between 1 June and 30 September.

Your landlord can only use this ground if they have previously given you written notice that they may use it. They must give this to you by 31 May 2026, in most cases. This information sheet does not count as that written notice.

If your landlord wants to evict you at the end of the 2025/26 academic year, they can serve you a notice seeking possession between 1 May and 30 July 2026 (inclusive). They will need to give this to you with at least 2 months' notice.

Your End of Tenancy Check Out

NICHOLSON GROUP
Reimagining the rental experience

In accordance with the terms of your tenancy agreement you have three main obligations to consider when ending your tenancy:

1. Giving proper written notice to us. A minimum of two months' notice is required in writing of your intention to vacate the property which should always start on a rent payment date and cannot end before the end of a fixed term. Please give notice in the Nicholson Living app or, if you cannot, email office@nicholsongroup.co.uk. Any questions, contact us.
2. The property and contents should be handed back in the same condition as they were at the beginning of the tenancy - allowing for normal wear and tear of course. This includes cleaning, and we often say that work on the principle that you are to hand the property back as you would expect to have been given it.
3. The rent must be up to date and all Council Tax and utility bills settled.

The following notes are intended to help you prepare for the checkout so that the event runs smoothly, and to minimise the risk of misunderstandings that could lead to last minute problems or surprises that can in turn lead to costs, legal proceedings including debt recovery and deductions from your deposit.

You will want as much of your security deposit to be returned as possible, so as long as you comply with all the terms of your agreement your deposit is fully refundable. If you have not paid a deposit you will want to ensure you are not party to any legal proceedings and financial proceedings which may affect your ability to rent, obtain a loan or employment in the future.

The Inventory:
It is a good idea to start your preparations now by running through your copy of the inventory, if one was prepared, to remind yourself about the contents and condition at the start of the tenancy, and to check for damaged or missing items. If you need a copy sending through please don't hesitate to ask.

Cleaning
The following describes in detail what is expected in the way of cleaning, repairs and maintenance:

Kitchen:

1. All kitchen surfaces thoroughly cleaned with a proprietary cleaner and disinfectant, paying particular attention to any stains or marks (see below for details of a great bathroom cleaning product we highly recommend, made by HG Products).

2. Fridges and freezers need to be defrosted and cleaned.
3. In and around the dishwasher needs to be cleaned out and the internal removable parts such as the spinning arms and filters need to be removed, cleaned and replaced.
4. In and around the washing machine needs to be cleaned. This includes the inside of the door and rubber door seal, inside the detergent drawer, and if the applicant has a removable lint filter at the front bottom this needs to be taken out, cleaned and replaced.
5. Tumble dryer – as above, making sure to clean the removable lint filter.
6. Oven, shelves, grill trays and hob need to be cleaned. Please don't leave cleaning product on the insides of the oven as we might have to call someone out to clean that off meaning cost might be incurred.
7. All hard surfaces should be washed down and cleaned, including the kitchen floor which must not be 'sticky'.
8. Remove all contents from cabinets and drawers (this includes food, rubbish, salt, sugar, etc.).
9. Sink has to be cleaned.
10. Counter tops should not have any scratches, chips and must be properly cleaned.
11. Replace all burnt or missing light bulbs – including inside ovens and in the over hob extractor fan system.

Bedrooms:

1. All bedroom surfaces should be thoroughly cleaned with a proprietary cleaner/disinfectant paying particular attention to any stains or marks.
2. Remove all contents from bedroom including cabinets and drawers. There should be nothing left behind. If there is it may incur a clean or removal cost.
3. Replace all burnt or missing light bulbs.

Bathrooms:

1. All bathroom/WC surfaces should be thoroughly cleaned with a proprietary bathroom cleaner/disinfectant paying particular attention to any stains or marks.
2. Clean toilet and make sure seat hinges are fixed.
3. Make sure the bath / shower is properly cleaned and silicone sealants around the edges and corners of baths and showers are clean.
4. All surfaces should be washed down and cleaned, including the bathroom floor, which must not be 'sticky'.
5. All cabinets and drawers must be cleared out and cleaned.
6. Hand basin has to be left fully cleaned.
7. Clean all mirrors. Ensure they are not left "streaky".
8. Replace all burnt or missing light bulbs.

Living Rooms, Hallways, Garages and Miscellaneous:

1. All hard surfaces and windows should be washed down and cleaned, including all floors, which must not be left 'sticky' or streaky.
2. All the woodwork, skirting boards etc. should be washed down.
3. All soft furnishings and carpets should be vacuumed and cleaned, paying special attention to any heavy stains and marks if applicable. This may mean having carpets professionally cleaned.
4. All light fixtures should have a good working light bulb. It is much cheaper for you to replace burned out bulbs than it is for our handyman to replace the bulbs and charge you for his labour as well.
5. Smoke detectors - should have batteries and be in working order.

6. All sets of keys must be returned. Internal keys for cupboards, doors, windows etc. should be left in their locks.
7. All rubbish or personal items must be removed from the property, and please do not put rubbish or large items in hallways as this could be a fire hazard.
8. If any personal items of rubbish are left within or without the property that are not the responsibility of the Local Authority refuse department to remove, a charge may be made to the Tenant for the removal of these items.
9. We respectfully ask all outgoing tenants to ensure (where appropriate) that rubbish bins belonging to the property are left out in the correct place for the Local Authority refuse department to collect on bin day, and that bins aren't left overflowing with rubbish. It's not nice for neighbours to see bins overflowing, it can attract vermin, and it's not nice for the next tenants moving in to see bins left in this way. Thank you.

Normal Wear and Tear:
Please note that we will take normal fair wear and tear into account when assessing the condition of the property for deposit return matters after you have moved out.

Final Bills:
Please notify the relevant utility companies to disconnect your services. You will need to provide them with meter readings, the last date of your tenancy (which may be after your move out date), and a forwarding address for the final bill. If you do not cancel your utilities and Council Tax they will continue to bill the service in your name, however please do not cancel these before your move out date as this can throw up additional administration work on our behalf to resolve and you could be charged an admin fee. Please also let us know who your utility providers were.

Mail Forwarding:
Once you move out, Nicholson Lettings will not receive or forward any mail on your behalf. You should therefore make arrangements around a month before you leave with Royal Mail to do so, if you have any questions please see: https://www.royalmail.com/personal/receiving-mail/redirection.

Viewings:
In most cases we will be advertising the property for relet so it's likely that we will contact you to arrange a showing of the property to prospective tenants. It is a condition of your tenancy agreement that you allow us to do so, however, we will always give you at least 24 hours notice and will always endeavour to make viewings together for your convenience. All viewings will be conducted in line with Government Coronavirus guidelines.

Keys:
You should return the keys to our office immediately after you vacate the property - if keys are not returned you could be charged to have the locks changed and typically the minimum charge for this can be £120.

Pre Checkout Visit:
Some tenants find it useful for one of us to come and carry out a pre-exit inspection because we can often help to point out any particular areas that require attention prior to move out. If you would like us to carry out a pre-checkout visit with you please contact us and book this separately.

Access to the property after the tenancy has ended:
Once the final checkout has taken place you will generally not be granted access back into the property, and therefore any remedial work agreed to be your responsibility would usually be carried out by our contractors at your expense..

Return of Deposit
The process of administering the return of your deposit can take anything from a few days to a few weeks depending on whether any works are left to be carried out after you move out. In addition, we will need your bank details and new address emailing to us before the agreed amount of deposit can be returned to you.

Miscellaneous information:

Other cleaning products are available but one product we highly recommend for cleaning the silicone and grouting around baths is this one made by HG Products. It can be purchased from local hardware stores and also B & Q, Homebase and Wickes. It is a strong bleach based solution so always make sure to follow the manufacturers usage instructions;

Washing machines:
Our washing machine repair engineer recommends a cleaning product called 'Calgon' for cleaning the inside of washing machines.

Light bulbs:
If light bulbs are left not working after you move out of your rented property, then we will have to call a local handyman to come replace them. The call out charge you would be billed for this is typically around £45 on top of the cost of the bulbs which will be around £4 each.

Oven cleans:
A standard single oven clean is charged out at about £60, and including the hob this can be £75.
The charge to clean range type ovens is from £120.

Carpet cleans:
The initial call out charge for carpet cleaning is £50 then each space (or room) that needs cleaning typically costs from £40 on top.

'Man & Van' rubbish removal:
The Government introduced tippage tarrifs some years ago so if waste items are left at the property that will be too large for the normal household waste bins to cope with then we might have to use a 'man and van' service to remove them. Costs start at £50.
